Last Bench Chronicles: Class XII-B, 2027

For the 40 students of Class XII-B and their class teacher, Sahoo Sir, in Bhubaneswar. Organised by a parent-rep, Rashmi Patnaik. A fictional class.

Sriya P. "Attendance 74%, memories 100%." Favourite memory: the power cut during the pre-boards, when all 40 of us sang until the lights came back. In 10 years: a doctor in Cuttack, still late for everything.

Class awards, voted by all 40 of us. Best laugh: Ritwik. Class problem-solver: Zoya. Always late but always forgiven: Sriya. Most likely to become famous: the whole back bench, together.

For Sahoo Sir. Two years of physics, a hundred times "think first, then write", and not one day you gave up on us. Thank you, from XII-B.

The end
